Sophie creates contemporary works of art portraying a natural interaction of space, form, colour and emotion, with her work being sold exclusively through Galleria De Marchi, Bologna, Italy and Bonnefin Gallery, 50 Pitt Street, Sydney.

The new and exclusive Bonnefin Gallery is in the old Westpac building in the heart of the city of Sydney with its French doors overlooking the park.

The gallery offers Sophie Mill's original artworks on their bridal registry, painting workshops with the artist herself, scarfs and limited edition silk ties and for the ultimate in unique wedding gifts, commissioned works can also be arranged.

Sophie's own studio sits in her gorgeous English garden in the Hunter Region where she offers contemporary painting classes for those who want to know how to let go of their sub-consciousness and realise freedom. Here you will be treated to a gourmet lunch specially prepared by a renowned local chef together with personally selected premium wines, this makes the perfect Hen's day out.

Modernism Sophie says is, "making a decisive break with all customs and conventions of the past". Sophie leads you to become a subliminal artist - she teaches you to paint for process rather than having a specific product in mind making the results endless, enjoyable and exciting.
